Wisconsin law provides victims of crime with special rights.

The Wisconsin Constitution (Article I, Section 9m) and Wis. Stat. Chapter 950 give certain rights to victims of crime. Some are automatic while others must be requested. The rights are listed on the reverse side of this form. Use the information on this form to discuss your rights with agencies you are in contact with about the case and to make your interests known.

Important

The Wisconsin Department of Justice Victim Resource Center can provide you with information about victim services in your area.

1-800-446-6564 or www.doj.state.wi.us/ocvs

If you are threatened or intimidated because of your cooperation with law enforcement and prosecutors, you should make a report to the investigating agency listed above.

If you are in immediate danger, call 9-1-1!

It is very important that you keep agencies informed of any new information about your case or changes to your phone number or address.

You may be eligible to receive reimbursement for certain expenses related to the crime. Keep records of the crime-related expenses, such as lost wages, repairs, or medical bills. Restitution may be ordered if the offender is convicted, and you will need this information to support your claim. Even if no one is arrested or convicted, you may be eligible for crime victim compensation.
